TEACHING:
MOVING TOWARDS
KARMIK LINGUISTIC
THEORY AND PRACTICE

29th & 30th March 2019

(on the occasion of the 6th Anniversary Celebration of KLLAS, 2019)

Jointly organized by Karmik Linguistic and Literary Association (KLLAS), ELT@I-NCR
& Sharda University, Greater Noida

THE CONFERENCE

The aim of the conference is to bring together academicians, researchers, trainers and educators to present and discuss the most recent innovations, trends, and concerns, practical challenges encountered and the solutions adopted in the fields of Linguistics, Language, Literature and Culture in the 21st century.

Implementation of critical approaches and theoretical paradigms emanating from western academia in non-western world has remained problematic in its inability to produce explanatory frames sensitive to historical and sociological specificities of the latter. Thus one of the major themes of the conference would be Karmik Linguistic Theory (KLT) as an alternative holistic theory and approach to linguistics, language teaching, literary studies, and translation studies.

Abstracts describing original results of conceptual, constructive, empirical, experimental, or theoretical research in Linguistics, Language, Literature and Culture Studies are solicited related to but not limited to the themes listed below:

Linguistics

- Karmik Linguistics
- Karmik Language Teaching Approach
- Karmik Literary Theory
- Karmik Translation Theory
- KLT and Curriculum Designing
- Karmik Living Programming
